

CY4GATE AND ALMAWAVE ENTER INTO A COMMERCIAL COOPERATION AGREEMENT IN THE ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE DOMAIN

CY4GATE FURTHER STRENGTHENS ITS CUSTOMER VALUE PROPOSITION THROUGH STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

ALMAWAVE CARRIES ALONG THE POTENTIAL OF AI IN SUPPORT OF CYBER INTELLIGENCE AND CYBER SECURITY

Rome, November 28th 2022 – CY4GATE (EGM:CY4), company active within and throughout the cyber market, which boasts a diversified offering of proprietary technologies, and Almawave, (EGM: AIW) company belonging to the Almoviva Group – leader within the domains of AI, natural language analysis and Big Data services – announce the sealing of a strategic partnership aimed at integrating a number of Almawave’s natural language recognition and interpretation technologies – based on Natural Language Processing techniques – within CY4GATE’s Decision Intelligence platforms, further enhancing and boosting the platform’s capabilities, with the aim to provide the new features which the clients have solicited.

The partnership between these two Italian companies will lead to the creation of an integrated solution which will be instinctively employed in those settings where there is a necessity to process overwhelming quantities of structured and unstructured data, which may include both traditional and audio/speech video data. Among the most remarkable features of this partnership is the possibility for CY4GATE’s decision intelligence platforms to gain the ability to carry out operations of transliteration – the transcription of a text according to an alphabetic system distinct from the original – in full autonomy.

This initiative will impact positively on the acquisition of new business opportunities within a market which is dominated by constant technological innovation. Progress and innovation are paramount in order to be able to respond to the ever-increasingly demanding requests of the end users and to substantially improve customer experience.

Valeria Sandei, CEO of Almawave stated: “Almawave showcases a unique, innovative wealth of AI skills and technologies within the Cyber Intelligence & Cyber Security market. This partnership aims at tapping into the potential of AI, with a view to contribute to the evolution of CY4GATE’s platforms in a sustainable and structured manner, simultaneously preserving the values of discretion and accuracy”

Emanuele Galtieri, CEO of CY4GATE Group asserted: “We believe that focusing on artificial intelligence and on cooperating with a partner like Almawave – who has succeeded in being a forerunner of industry trends on Natural Language Processing techniques – is a unique opportunity in order to maintain a competitive advantage, essential in this specific market. National and European digital sovereignty involves industry partnerships and cooperation with research institutions. Self-sufficiency no longer exists in any industry, particularly within the cyber domain. And CY4GATE is highly aware of this notion, and therefore prioritises targeted partnerships which can ensure technological and know-how symbiosis, in order to produce disruptive innovations within its own industry”
