CY4GATE AND DEEPCYBER SIGN A JOINT AGREEMENT FOR CYBER THREAT INTELLIGENCE SOLUTIONS

CY4GATE CONTINUES TO GROW AND DEVELOP WITH STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

DEEPCYBER, THE ITALIAN LEADER IN CYBER THREAT INTELLIGENCE, LAYS THE FOUNDATIONS FOR A MADE IN ITALY COOPERATION IN THE ITALIAN CYBER ECOSYSTEM

Rome, XX June 2023 – CY4GATE (EGM:CY4), a company operating in the cyber intelligence and security sector with a broad range of proprietary technologies, and DeepCyber (Gruppo Maggioli), an Italian supplier of solutions, technologies and knowledge in the field of cyber threat intelligence, protection and antifraud services, report that they have signed a strategic agreement in which DeepCyber will provide support in the form of cyber threat intelligence technology and know-how, which will be integrated into CY4Gate's cybersecurity business line to further strengthen its products.

For CY4GATE, Cyber Threat Intelligence (or CTI) is a perfect fit with its range of proprietary products for the cybersecurity market, in which a proactive and preventive approach is an increasingly crucial factor for success. In this sense, the availability of normalised data relating to cybersecurity threats (existing or emerging) allows SIEM RTA to identify, monitor and block attacks faster and more accurately, and is therefore a valuable addition to an increasingly solid and comprehensive range of cybersecurity solutions.

The partnership between these two Italian companies will lead to solutions that will find their natural homes wherever there is a need to heighten analysis, detection and response capabilities in order to fully meet the diverse needs of customers.

The agreement will therefore lead to collaboration on cyber threat intelligence which will supplement and consolidate an array of products aimed at the cybersecurity sector in Italy and abroad.

Gerardo Costabile, CEO of DeepCyber, commented: “There is a need for increased cooperation between Italian companies in the cybersecurity sector. This partnership, the culmination of a lengthy process, lays the foundations to offer the national and international markets - both civilian and military - appropriate, state-of-the-art cyber threat intelligence which is unique in Italy.”

Emanuele Galtieri, CEO of CY4Gate Group said: “Investing in cyber threat intelligence, finding new solutions in order to offer increasingly innovative, high-quality products, is part of the DNA of CY4Gate. This partnership with DeepCyber is part of the necessary and desirable collaboration that has become essential in the cybersecurity sector, where the autarchical model is clearly unsuccessful and osmosis between different competencies is the right direction to take in order to strengthen Italian and European capability.”

About DeepCyber and Maggioli

DeepCyber is a boutique cyber company founded in 2017; in late 2020 it became part of the established Italian Maggioli Group, enhancing its value. The specialist team at DeepCyber supports customers in the process of developing their proactive detection and response capabilities in cyber threat intelligence, cyber protection (an evolution of security, geared to the protection of tangible and intangible assets) and antifraud.

Maggioli is a family-run company with over 100 years' experience in the development of high-level solutions for public administration, businesses and freelancers. "Innovation by tradition" expresses the company's approach and culture, and has led it to a position of leadership in the Italian ICT market. The group is constantly growing, with over 2,800 employees and 70 branches in Italy, Spain, Belgium, Greece and Colombia.
