

Lorenzo Taglione

A Certified Public Accountant and Statutory Auditor, also registered with the Register of Corporate Crisis Managers, he provides consulting services to Italian and foreign companies, focusing on M&A, financial due diligence, business plan reviews, business valuations, and extraordinary transactions.

He has gained significant experience in transaction services at Deloitte Financial Advisory, handling acquisitions, divestitures, and advisory work for corporate and private equity clients, and previously in auditing at PwC. He also teaches at LUMSA University in the areas of business planning, project management, and budgeting.

He holds a degree in Economics and Business from the University of Bologna and has completed specialized training programs in corporate finance, financial due diligence, finance, accounting, corporate law, and tax law.